MISS ANNA H. WARNER AS ONE OF THE GIRLS ACCOMPLISHING SOMETHING.

This paper wishes to call the public attention to Anna H. Warner who has done a few things of which she may feel justly proud.

Miss Warner was born in Troy Illinois and educated in the schools of that place. She then attended the musical institution of St. Louis. Coming to Kansas City at an appreciative age, she studied with Prof. Lee learning his entire course.

Going to Fisk University she made a splendid record entering the 5th grade of music from the start being the second girl to get so high a rating. She finished her technique and harmony, and she almost finished the recital course, but had to quit school for unavoidable circumstances. Miss Warner has a natural ability for music.

Believing she might help the younger class of girls and also more unfortunate who have not had an opportunity to learn music, Miss Warner opened up a studio at 18th and Paseo, where she is prepared to give the public the benefit of her training.

Miss Warner uses the unique methods of Herman Bach and Leschetizky, which are quite different from the other teachers.

During the two years at home she has still continued to study. Those desiring to give their children musical instruction should certainly see her and read her announcement placard in the advertising part of the paper.

One of her peculiar ways of teaching is to arouse the interest of pupils by giving them also the literary side of the music as well as the technical and harmonious.

Miss Warner has a very well equipped and up-to-date musical studio. She is trying to open up opportunities for the younger generation. All the latest musical books can be seen; various modern musical instruments. All the best authorities on the criticisms and points on music. Miss Warner also takes a natural fancy to the instruction of girls, imparting to them her own personality which is of a very strong and high nature.

The public at large should appreciate and encourage such strong determination on the part of our Kansas City girls who are branching out in noble occupations, and should especially give Miss Warner's studio a visit.

Dear Editor:—Sir, will you kindly allow me sufficient space in your honorable paper to insert the following:

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR JIM CROWISM AND LYNCH LAWS.

Having noticed in the K. C. Times of June 11 inst. of the address of Rev. Bishop Grant along the lines of the St. Louis Jim Crow car laws, I would to God and also pray that Bishop Grant and all others concerned continually beg and urge and try to persuade the members of their various congregations to use the following words in their prayers that God may remember the oppressed and the law-makers of oppressions upon the strangers that dwelleth among them and that God may drive these laws from our land and country. Please note the following scriptures on the same: God said one law shall be to him that is home-born and unto the stranger that sojourneth among you—Exodus 12—49. Thou shalt neither vex a stranger no oppress him, for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. Ye shall not afflict any widow or fatherless child. If thou afflict them in any wise and they cry at all unto me I will surely hear their cry and my wrath shall wax hot and I will kill you with the sword and your wives shall be widows and your children fatherless. Now what more is needed than crying unto him.—Exodus 22: 21 to 24.

REV. J. M. BOOKER'S Successful Administration

AS PASTOR OF THE PLEASANT GREEN BAPTIST CHURCH, WILL DEDICATE NEW FOUNDATION IN A FEW WEEKS, AND LATER TO COMPLETE NEW CHURCH WORTH $25,000.

The Pleasant Green Baptist Church of this city is an organization about 30 years old. The first pastor of this church was Rev. John Morgan, of Kentucky. He was an able defender of the Gospel and of strong moral character. He succeeded in buying the property in rear of Independence and Tracy avenues, and building the frame house where the Church is at present. After Rev. Morgan's death the next preacher who became the pastor of the Church was Rev. Alford, of Kansas.

After a stay of about two years Rev. Alford was succeeded by Rev. E. M. Wilson, of Kentucky, who was the most intellectual pastor the church has ever had. He was an able defender of the church and a pulpit orator. These two preachers, Rev. Alford and Rev. Wilson, were both overcome by the same weakness.

Rev. G. W. Burdett was the next pastor who resigned of his own accord.

Next to come to take the leadership of the church is the Rev. J. M. Booker, of Memphis, Tenn., who was the pastor of Salem Baptist church, the second largest Baptist church in Memphis. He desired to change his field of labor, so he resigned to come to Kansas City.

Rev. Booker was born in Virginia in 1863, and in 1869 his father took him to Mississippi, where he received a common school education. On becoming a young man 23 years old he was converted in June, 1886, at Memphis. Two years later he was licensed to preach, and on Sept. 13th, 1891, he was ordained, after which he pastored successfully for 5 years the Salem Baptist Church in Memphis. Rev. Booker attended the Theological department of Howe Institute for about 9 years.

He built the Mount Zion Baptist Church during his time in Memphis.

As a financier and church builder his ability can not be doubted. When he came to take charge of the Pleasant Green Church one year ago, it was in a critical condition. During this one year he has raised nearly $1,000 and paid all indebtedness of the church, and built the foundation for the new church on the east side of Tracy avenue, near Independence avenue. The Pleasant Green Church is in splendid condition now. It owns two good pieces of property, and values all of its holdings at $10,000.

Rev. Booker will build a handsome Auditorium on the new foundation in the next five years, worth from $10,000 to $15,000, thus making the new church worth about $25,000.

The people of this city who admire a clean, Christian gentleman, a man of principle and integrity, should give Rev. Booker their support and help him to do a great work for God and humanity. He is one man who will not condone immoral crime, or shield dirty men who are preaching the gospel. He is deserving of the aid and confidence of the people.

EXPOSITION NOTES.

The address by Dr. Booker T. Washington on August 3rd promises to be a "red letter day" in the history of the exposition. The Hampton Institute students will give a special drill exhibition on the parade ground of the exposition and the Hampton Band will furnish music for the parade, which will lead from the parade ground to the negro building, where the speech will be delivered. The Fisk jubilee Singers are preparing a special program of music and there are other events that will make this one of the great days of the exposition.

Melissa Fuel of Joplin, Mo., a teacher in public schools of that place and a graduate of Lincoln Institute is in the city visiting Miss Emma Smith of 915 Woodland.

July 19, 1907.

To The Editor of The Rising Son:— Through your newspaper, I beg to call to the attention of our people the fact that December 17, 1907, will be the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of John Greenleaf Whittier. I need not remind the Negro people of the unselfish labors rendered by this great individual to the cause of freedom and for the perpetuation of the Union. Our race owes him a debt of gratitude which it will be difficult for us to repay.

It seems to me that it would be very fitting if we should begin now to make preparations to celebrate this anniversary in a befitting manner. Such a celebration should be arranged for in schools, churches, by literary organizations and various other organized bodies.

I am just in receipt of a letter from friends of the poet living in Amesbury, Mass., his old home, advising of plans now being perfected for the celebration of this great event in Amesbury.

I trust that our people everywhere will let the world know through a proper celebration of the event how much they honor the memory of the sainted Whittier.

Yours faithfully,
BOOKER T. WASHINGTON.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION TO DR. B. F. ALLEN AND HIS BRIDE, AT LINCOLN INSTITUTE.

President B. F. Allen.

A brilliant reception was tendered Dr. B. F. Allen and his beautiful bride Mrs. Mayme Lee Williams Allen at Lincoln Institute on the evening of the 16th inst. by the summer school faculty, students and prominent citizens of Jefferson City.

Dr. Allen was married June 26 to Miss Williams of Macon, Georgia.

The former as the scholarly president of Lincoln Institute is too well known throughout the country for his work and attainments to need further comment at this time; and Mrs. Allen represents one of the most highly respected and well-to-do families of the beautiful Southern city, Macon, Georgia.

She was for several years a member of the faculty of the High school at Chattanooga, Tennessee, and more recently has held the chair of mathematics in the Fort Valley high and industrial school, Georgia.

To return to the reception—the ladies were beautifully attired, the bride's dress being a costly gown of white crepe de chine, princess style, trimmings of white rose point lace and sequins.

A delicious menu of viands particularly well suited to the unusually warm weather was served in the spacious and beautifully decorated dining hall of Lincoln Institute. The tables were arranged in the form of a capital letter A, Dr. and Mrs. Allen occupying the seats of honor. Covers were laid for 50 guests. Prominent among these were Mr. and Mrs. Al Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Franklin, Mesdames Golins, King, Harrison, Henderson, Sexton, Jackson, Professor J. S. Moten and wife, Professor G. S. Murray and wife, Professor Josephine

BLIND BOONE CONCERT CO.

Five Successful Years for Kansas City's Prima Donna, Miss Emma Smith.

The people are very much pleased to learn of the return of the Blind Boone Concert Co. They are especially glad to know of the success of Miss Emma Smith, one of Kansas City's home products.

The company has had a long concert tour traveling through the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Wyoming, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri; always playing to a full audience.

Miss Emma Smith, a graduate of Kansas City, has certainly made good in the line in which she chose for her life's work. She has traveled with the company for five successful years, and each year she has become stronger with the public at large. Miss Smith is a natural singer, having had a good voice all her life. When in school, she was easily classed as the best singer in school. The young lady has simply shown what the young girls in the city can do; she has by her success lent encouragement to other girls. The public possibly wishes to know what the young lady has done with her earnings from such a good position which she has. If they go to 915 Woodland there they will see a beautiful six room house of which Miss Smith is owner. Miss Smith is a decided home girl always looking for something which will please her parents. This is the main desire the true (yeh) you desire the true insight into an individual, follow them to their home. If you follow her to the hearth side you will find her a loving and affectionate daughter, beloved by all her relatives. Kansas City should be greatly proud of the record she has made.

Miss Smith is an honor to Kansas City; and every person should appreciate her musical ability of which she possesses in a very high degree.

JOHN LANG.

Mr. John Lang, the manager of the Blind Boone Concert Co., has had 26 years with the company. Just last year he contributed over $300 to charity and he is ever ready to assist a young man on his way to the successful road. As the public would, we know, like to read of a few accomplishments of this remarkable man at some later edition we shall endeavor to give it. The company will leave in September.

otherwise in character were made by Messrs. Franklin, Jacobs, Perry, Professor Yates, Murray and Daniel. The sentiment contained in each of these was entirely appropriate to the occasion, full of best wishes and highest hopes for the present and future happiness of the newly wedded pair.

At the close of the programme Dr. and Mrs. Allen thanked their guests for the pleasures of the evening and assured their many friends of the very high appreciation they sustained for them in words which beautifully expressed the thought.

The presents received both in Macon and Jefferson City were numerous and costly and are still coming.

Miss Ora Carter of Lawrence, Kan., spent a delightful week visiting her friends, Mrs. Dawkins, Mrs. I. F. Bradley and others. She will go to Lawrence Sunday.
